ROSA MARAUFSKY SET FREE TODAY

While She Prepares Replevin Suit to Recover Car, Federal Officers Take it

PROHIBITION AGENT HERE

L. A. Kidder and Assistant Remove Machine to Indianapolis and Will Investigate Farther

Rosa Maraufsky, the Chicago woman who was placed in jail in connection with the booze runners automobile abandoned here Friday night, was released from jail this morning when it was found that she could not be of any further assistance in the case.

L. A. Kidder in charge of the southern district of the state, working under the federal prohibition director, came here this morning with an assistant, and took the large car to Indianapolis, where the federal authorities will investigate the matter further.

The charge against Mrs. Maraufsky, being an accessory after the fact, was found to be worthless, because the principal parties to the charge were not arrested, and she was released from jail, but was still in Rushville today.

While she was busy with an attorney this morning preparing a suit against E. M. Jones, sheriff, a complaint in replevin to gain possession of her automobile, the federal officers came, and before she could file the suit the large touring car was half way back to Indianapolis, and she will be compelled to seek further for her machine.

The Ford touring car which is in Lewisville, that is supposed to have been used by the two men, who made their escape from here, was stated today to have been purchased by the men from Mullins and Taylor local agents. It is not known just what will be done with the machine.

Mrs. Maraufsky told the court officials that she paid $5,500 for the large touring car, but unfortunately her adopted son, Ben Maraufsky, had taken out the license plates in his name, and she will have a difficult time in proving her ownership to the machine.

The statute reads that the federal agents have a right to confiscate all whiskey as well as the automobile in which it is being transported, and

WOULD PREVENT A RAIL RATE INCREASE

State Public Service Commission Asks Injunction to Stop Boost in Interstate Fares

FEDERAL COMMISSION ORDER

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16.—The public service commission today asked the district federal court here for an injunction restraining the interstate commerce commission from enforcing its order of today directing the intrastate rates in Indiana be boosted to the level of interstate rates.

The suit filed by the state board also asked that the roads be enjoined from increasing passenger and freight rates which would become effective March 24.

In its suit for injunction the service commission charged that the order of the interstate commerce commission was unlawful. The suit says the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and other carriers on October 17, 1920, filed a petition with the service commission asking that the intrastate rates be put on a level with the interstate rates such as was ordered today by the interstate commerce commission, but that the utilities body saw fit to deny the petition.

POLICE UNEARTH BODY OF A WOMAN

Mary H. Townsend, Talented Concert Pianist, Admits Burying Grandmother With Mother's Help

DIED NATURAL DEATH, CLAIM

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 16.—The police today unearthed the body of Mrs. Nancy Chamberlain, 91, member of the Artist colony here. The body was found under the geranium plot at the back of the studio formerly occupied by the woman.

The body was buried there by her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Townsend, and her granddaughter, according to the confession made to the police by the latter, Mary H. Townsend, talented concert pianist.

"Grandmother died one day last June; the exact date I do not know," Miss Townsend stated. "Mother and I were both at the bedside when she breathed her last. Under the cover of midnight, we dug the grave. We carried out the remains and placed the body in the grave. To us she is not dead. She is just buried and she is happy. She died a natural death on her cot."

The daughter's confession came after the police had grilled the mother and daughter for three days.

PROTECTION FOR CROSSINGS DEAD

City Council Decides Not to Pass Ordinance Ordering Gates at Two C. I. & W. Crossings

PROTESTS AGAINST BELLS

Improvement of Streets by Spiking and Rolling Discussed—To Hear Paving Remonstrators

The city council which met last night in regular session practically killed an ordinance which was intended to be introduced compelling the C. I. & W. railroad to install crossing gates at Main and Perkins streets, and bell signals at other streets.

A small delegation of citizens residing along Fourth street appeared before the council, thinking that some action might be taken in the matter, and the councilmen were asked concerning each one's opinion in the matter, and it was generally understood that none was in favor of bells, or entering upon any change at the present time.

At a previous meeting of the council, it was agreed upon by railroad officials that they would put up crossing gates at Main and Perkins streets, and install signal bells at Morgan, Harrison and Arthur streets.

The council deferred action on the proposition and residents along Fourth street began their protest, especially those residing near Morgan and Harrison streets, stating that bells would prove an annoyance ringing in the night time and all during the day while trains were switching.

At the last meeting of the council the proposition was laid on the table, and last night another delegation arrived to enter protest against bells. H. C. Flint, living near Harrison and 4th lead the attack and for some streets, and would afford ample protection, he couldn't see why bells couldn't be placed at Main and Perkins street. R. P. Larkin, Ed Beer and Elmer Caldwell also spoke their views concerning any change that the councilmen might make, and the councilmen themselves were then asked to state openly what they believed, and the matter was quietly dropped, and things will remain with crossing watchmen, as at the present time.

The matter of the rough streets in Rushville was taken up, and a suggestion which was made earlier in the winter was again brought up, and spoken of very favorably. It is planned to have a steam engine, equipped with spikes to tear up all the hard surfaced and rough streets and have them rolled down flat so that the bumps will be taken out.

The suggestion of oiling the streets again also was discussed and prices on oil will be asked for at a future meeting. Last year the prices were too high, and no oiling was done, but the prices are said to be back almost to normal now.

With the use of spikes on the rough streets, and oil applied and then rolled out with a heavy roller, the streets could be put in first class condition, in the opinion of the councilmen, and this plan will more than likely be followed out, and will be worked out more in detail at another meeting.

The paving plans for South Morgan and West Water streets were accepted by the councilmen last night, and March 2, was set aside as the time for receiving or hearing remonstrators against the two concrete streets. It has been understood that Lawrence and Ennis contractors for the Harrison street job, will be one of the bidders, so that the work can be done early this spring, if they are successful bidders.

CHARGED WITH ARSON

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 16.—Wallace E. Sipe, proprietor of a local meat market, was arrested here today on a charge of arson filed by Deputy State Fire Marshal Hoover. The affidavits were filed in Delaware circuit court charging Sipe as being responsible for the fire which destroyed his place of business on the night of February 6.

ANNIVERSARY OF ROTARY OBSERVED

Sixteenth Birthday of Organization is Celebrated With Ladies Night By Local Club

Walter Pittsford Speaks and Guests Are Entertained By Highland Lassies Orchestra

Entertained by the Highland Lassies and a short program of after dinner speeches, wives and lady friends of Rushville Rotarians were guests Tuesday night when the sixteenth anniversary of the founding of the first Rotary club in Chicago was celebrated at the Social club by the local club.

Walter Pittsford of Indianapolis, governor of the eleventh Rotary district, which includes all of Indiana, made the principal address at the banquet. Judge Will M. Sparks presided and L. L. Allen briefly reviewed the work of the Rushville Rotary club since its organization a little more than a year ago.

The thought emphasized in both addresses was that the Rotary club was not achieving a reputation as a Rotary club but that its aim was to make "citizens," not residents of the community.

Last night's event was the second "Ladies Night" in the history of the Rushville Rotary club and it was immensely enjoyed by approximately forty local Rotarians and their wives or lady friends.

Valentine Day suggestions predominated in the special decorations. Streamers of white crepe paper adorned with red "hearts" formed a canopy in the dining room and flags with the Rotary emblem were used to advantage in the artistic arrangements of the room. The guests were seated at two long tables which were prettily arranged with clusters of carnations. Each guest wore a crepe paper hat of varied hues and each lady guest received a souvenir in the form of hand-painted card bearing a short paragraph appropriate to the occasion.

The Highland Lassie Entertainers a company of musicians composed of advanced pupils from the Marion (Ind.) School of Music, were immensely popular. Their program during the banquet and afterwards consisted of classical and popular orchestral music, vocal and instrumental solos and pleasing typical Scotch Highland Fling danced by Miss Margaret Jardine. The orchestra also played several numbers for dancing, interspersed during their program.

The orchestral numbers, especially those of a classical nature, were given with excellent interpretation and the Scotch and popular music was played with a snap that made it particularly pleasing.

Miss Floy Huston, pianist and vocalist, was especially popular with her Scotch songs and in the solo numbers where she played her own accompaniment. The orchestra's descriptive numbers won much applause, especially one in which Miss Doris Smith used the drums and a great variety of traps effectively.

The six girls were dressed as Scotch girls and made a very pretty appearance. The company was formed at Marion in the spring of 1920 and played 103 engagements at chautauquas last summer. Their first excursion on the chautauqua platform resulted in them being engaged for the coming season.

Walter Pittsford was heartily received by the banqueters and briefly expounded the theory of Rotary as one which develops the individual so as to make him of greater service to his fellowman.

The district governor, by detailing his own experiences in Rotary since becoming a charter member of the Indianapolis Rotary club seven years ago, outlined the aims and ideals of Rotary. He attempted to correct the misconception that Rotary is for the purpose of taking charge of every drive for funds and every movement designed to improve a community. The Rotary club's place, he explained, is to get behind every good and worthy effort in the community and boost it through the efforts of the members, not collectively as a Rotary club.

DOLLAR DAY BRINGS LARGE CROWD TO CITY

Threatening Weather Fails to Keep Away Many People Who Are Tempted by Bargains

SOME MERCHANTS SELL OUT

Dollar Day this afternoon was pronounced a success by several merchants who were questioned regarding trade during the day. There was much evidence of increased business activity by the number of automobiles in the city and by the increased crowds on the streets. Many stores were busy all day waiting on customers.

The weather conditions proved good for the special bargain day although the skies were clouded and rain which threatened during the morning, fell in torrents for a few minutes this afternoon. It is not believed, however, that the weather prevented many people from visiting local stores to take advantage of the Dollar bargains, although the threatening skies may have kept some people away.

Many persons were heard to comment on the bargains which were offered by Rushville merchants. Some business men reported at noon that they had completely sold out on some of the articles they priced specially for today.

EXPLOSION OF DUST AND GAS KILLS FOUR

Bodies of Only Two of Quartet of Miners Who Entered Shaft Near Francisco, Ind., Found

OTHERS BLOWN TO PIECES

(By United Press)

Princeton, Ind., Feb. 16.—Four coal miners were killed in a dust and gas explosion, which wrecked the New Liberty mines near Francisco today.

Two badly mangled bodies and small bits of flesh and clothing found by the rescue party lead to the belief that the other two men had been blown to pieces. It was impossible to identify the bodies because of their mangled conditions.

All were day men and descended into the mine to keep the plant in good condition during the strike. The strike has been in progress for a month and it has been necessary to make daily trips to the foot of the mine to keep it in good condition. The rear of the mine is still burning. An explosion in the same mine occurred ten days ago but no one was killed. Dust and coal gas collected in the mine during its idleness.

SENATE PASSES TWO HOUSE BILLS

Sanctions Special Tax Levy of 2/5 Of a Cent For Maintenance of Purdue Station

MUST BE RETURNED TO HOUSE

Senate Also O. K.'s Pure Seed Bill Passed by House—Salary Increase Bill Survives

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16.—A special state tax levy of 2/5 of a cent to provide funds for maintenance of the agriculture experiment station at Purdue University, provided for in a bill, was passed by the senate today.

Under the present valuations of approximately six billion dollars, the levy would raise $240,000 annually for the experiment station.

The measure will now be returned to the house of representatives for concurrence in senate amendments, the senate having boosted the levy from 3/8 cents to simplify the work in the office of the state auditor. The vote on the measure was 42 to 0.

The senate also passed unanimously the "pure seed" bill which originated in the house of representatives. The measure provides that the seeds sold in Indiana must be labeled to show the percentage of germination and the percent of foreign seeds.

After a brief argument, the house passed the wage guarantee bill to second reading. The measure came out of the judiciary committee on a divided report, the majority report favoring passage and the minority report favoring indefinite postponement.

Senator Moorehead's bill providing that foreign born Americans shall attend night school until they learn to read and write was killed by the house which accepted the minority report of the committee on education recommending indefinite postponement.

Representative Ahlgren, chairman of the committee, speaking against the bill, declared: "The senate either does not give the bills they have before them serious consideration or they don't know the fundamental principals of government. This sort

DILL FOUNDRY CO. INCORPORATED HERE

New Plant Erected Last Summer is Taken Over by Corporation Headed by H. G. Francis

BUSINESS TO BE EXTENDED

The Dill Foundry company, which recently took over the Dill foundry, that began operations here last September, has been incorporated for $20,000 and the transfer of real estate to the company was effected Tuesday. Incorporation papers have been filed with the secretary of state and copies are on file in the county recorder's office in the court house.

H. G. Francis is president of the new company, George Griesser is vice-president and Will Dill, secretary-treasurer. The plant was being operated in Mr. Dill's name until the incorporation. It is housed in a new building which was completed last summer and operations were begun the latter part of September. The plant is equipped to do all kinds of foundry work as well as machine and repair work. One of the purposes of the organization was to manufacture foundry supplies for the Chas. E. Francis Co., and thus keep in Rushville money which this concern has been spending elsewhere. The foundry, however, will do a general jobbing and production business and is now making plans to expand.

The company owns the east half of lot No. 12 of the McFarlan addition and all of lot No. 11 and officers of the company now have in mind a three-story brick building facing in Third street. The present plant is employing twelve men regular.

WOULD ABOLISH HEAD
OF COUNTY HIGHWAYS

Bill in Legislature Provides For Return to Old System of Caring For the Roads

TOO BIG FOR ONE, IS CLAIM

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16.—The abolishment of the office of county highway superintendent would be effected by house bill No. 351, introduced by Murray S. Barker, of Boone county. The bill would turn back to the county highway supervision in the effect before the county superintendent law was enacted in 1915, according to Representative Barker.

"Before the 1915 law was enacted," said Representative Barker, "each of the three county commissioners had one-third of the county to look after. He appointed road men in his district and looked after the roads himself. Under the present plan the county commissioners appoint one man who is responsible for all highways in the county supervision. The result has not been satisfactory in Boone county, because the job is too big for one man. Boone county believes that county roads will receive more attention if each county commissioner looks after his one-third of the roads."

Indiana Farms Show Improved Conveniences in Report Gathered by Agricultural Statistician

205,124 FARMS IN STATE

Youths Drifting Back to Farm From Cities Will Find That Homesteads Have Changed

By GEORGE C. BRYANT
U. S. Gov. Agricultural Statistician
(Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 15.—Homesier youth drifting back to the farm following his whirl at city life will find, in many instances, all the conveniences of the city awaiting him.

Glancing through the official report for 1920 of the co-operative crop reporting service for Indiana, just completed, one finds that approximately one-eighth of the 205,124 farms in Indiana equipped with modern bath rooms and one sixth have modern heating devices, either hot air, steam or hot water.

About seventy-five percent of the farmers in this state have automobiles. In 3,185 farm homes there are electric hot plates. About fifty percent have gas engines or electric motors with which to pump water, do the washing, churn the butter and to perform various other tasks which used to make farm life burdensome for the house wife.

Old Dobbin has been replaced in some degree by 14,643 tractors, 16,625 trucks and 13,061 trailers. There are 144,403 pleasure cars now in use by the Indiana farmers which have practically eliminated the family driving horse.

The three-legged milking stool and the old fashioned milk pail has given way to the new milking machine in 2,669 instances.

The report also shows that the farmers had to use 75.8 percent of the corn, oats and hay he raised in feeding livestock. The value of crops per acre during 1920 was $24.40 as compared with $35.75 during 1919.

Another interesting feature of the report is that it shows 11,071,241 laying hens were kept on Indiana farms during 1920 and that 452,136 sheep were sheared.

In studying the township assessors figures which are included in the report, we found there were 4,587 goats in Indiana last year, 655,329 horses, 94,196 mules, 2,516 jacks and jennets, 512,502 beef cattle, 759,138 dairy cattle, and 482,896 sheep and 2,515,013 swine.

We found that the pure bred livestock industry is one of the leading industries on the farm and that it is growing continually.

Mary Miles Minter Tonight
"All dressed up and no place to go!"
That's the way Mary Miles Minter says she felt when she made the statue scenes in "All Souls' Eve", a recently completed Realart release which will be shown today at the Princess theatre.
In this picture Miss Minter not only carries two very distinct and difference roles, but also appears as a ghost, and as the aforementioned statue. Now it is all very easy for an actress to serve as an artist's model, for slight movement is quite permissible in a living model. But it is something vastly more difficult to serve as the completed marble statue. Of course we have all seen the "Statue Groups" in the circus whitewashed ladies standing triumphantly with their feet on the necks of recumbent, whitewashed horses, etc. But distance eludes enchantment to such groups, and hides the slight movements which the "statues" may make. Not so in the case of a living statue posing before the all-seeing eye of the camera. It is a real endurance test, says Miss Minter, who, with all her screen experience, found this statue business one of the most exacting tasks which has confronted her in a long time.
Even at that however, she says she didn't mind the standing motionless nearly so much as the white chalk make-up, which plastered her completely, to give the semblance to marble, for the chalk kept getting into her eyes.
"The Marriage Pit", Mystic
To those familiar with the financial history of America the words "Black Friday" have an ominous meaning. Black Friday refers to September 24, 1869, when reckless speculation in gold on the New York Stock Exchange plunged the entire nation into a sudden and terrible period of financial panic and ruin. Four years later, a similar panic launched itself on a Friday in the same month.

So when the unscrupulous stock gamblers who are Frank Mayo's enemies threaten that "Black Friday" will be repeated for him in "The Marriage Pit", now at the Mystic Theatre their threat has dire import.

Their raid on Mayo, a live young financial power who "made" himself takes the form of "bearing" or depressing prices, on a stock in which he is heavily invested. Aware of this, Mayo calls the bluff by purchasing every share of stock they put on the market and turns the raid on his personal fortune to a complete cleanup of thousands of dollars.

While the Wall Street scenes in "The Marriage Pit", are accurate and interesting, they are purely incidental to Frederick Isham's story, the romance of a business man—a theme seldom treated in motion pictures. Lillian Tucker is the girl Frank Mayo marries in this picture, and Dagmar Godowsky is a musical comedy star. Ray Ripley as a shiftless waster and dabbler in stocks, Hal Wilson a the star's faithful secretary, and Frederick Vroom, Boyd Irwin, and Robert Dunbar, have good parts. Belle Stoddard Johnstone, Frank Mayo's aunt, is the mother of his sweetheart in "The Marriage Pit".

They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest. Sixteen Years of Rotary

The celebration held by the local Rotary club, marking the sixteenth birthday of the organization, will naturally cause many people to ask, "What is the Rotary club, anyway, and what does it mean?"

One answer might be that it is a small group of business and professional men who gather once a week for a luncheon and speaking program and that they seem to have a "cooking" good time.

But this isn't the real answer. It is no more correct than that definition of a man which would describe him as "a biped on which to display clothes", for Rotary, it seems, is an invisible thing which dwells in men's hearts and which is made manifest only through their thoughts and deeds. The getting together, the talking and fun are only the means to the accomplishment of a great end.

To get a clear understanding of

FRIENDS PROFIT
BY GOOD ADVICE

Mrs. Love Says Those Whom She Recommended Tanlac to Were
All Greatly Benefited

"Several of my friends to whom I recommended Tanlac have already been greatly benefited by the use of the medicine, and I just want others to know about it also," said Mrs. J. F. Love, residing at 225 W. Berry St., Fort Wayne, in relating her gratifying experience with Tanlac.

"Three years ago I started going down hill, and just kept getting worse until I was in a badly rundown condition. I had little strength or energy, felt tired and worn out all the time, and some days it was just all I could do to drag around and look after my housework. Frequently I became so dizzy everything turned dark before my eyes, and I would have to be still for a bit before I could move on. Then, last winter I had a severe attack of the influenza, which made matters much worse for me, and I took so many medicines without any relief I was just at a loss what to do next.

"However, I heard about Tanlac, and although I'm just now only on my fourth bottle of the medicine, I'm feeling better than I have in a long time. I have a wonderful appetite, never suffer from dizziness and that tired draggy feeling has completely disappeared. I simply think Tanlac is the greatest medicine in the world, and I believe it's my duty to let others know about it, for I heard about it myself through the statement of others."

Tanlac is sold in Rushville by: F. B. Johnson Co., in Milroy by Dallas Copper, in Manila by Geo. J. Inlow, in Arlington by Mrs. L. T. Davis, in Carthage by Otto C. McCarty, and in New Salem by Mrs. Jos. Hankins, R. R. 2.—(Advertisement)

the movement—for that's what it really is—it may be well to start at the beginning and see what brought Rotary into being. Sixteen years ago, a lonesome man—Paul P. Harris, a Chicago lawyer—invited a coal dealer, a coal operator and a merchant tailor to meet with him to form a little group of friends who could gather together once a week in each other's offices and enjoy that close acquaintanceship which comes only through such frequent meetings. From the beginning, each man represented a different business or profession. Strict adherence to this plan as each new man was added to the group has proven to be one of the vital points in the success of the Rotary club which came out of this small beginning. As the numbers grew, slowly, of course, a name for the club was sought. Inasmuch as the men had been "rotating" in their meetings in the offices of the members, someone suggested that it be called the "Rotation" club, and this was soon changed to "Rotary".

For three years this club was "lost" in the commercial and social turmoil of the big city, just as its founder, Paul Harris, considered himself "lost" without congenial, dependable friends. Then one of the Chicago men made a business trip to California and a second club was formed in San Francisco. This was the beginning of the movement which has spread to all quarters of the globe. In addition to the 800 clubs in the United States, Canada, England, Scotland and Ireland, and including the six clubs in Cuba, clubs have been organized in Argentina, Spain, Uruguay, France, Porto Rico, Panama, Hawaii, Japan, China, Philippine Islands, and India, while active organization work is going forward in Denmark, Chile, Peru, Egypt, Australia, Holland, Brazil and other countries. Even with its restricted membership plan, there are today upward of 65,000 Rotarians in the world.

And yet this doesn't answer the question, "What is Rotary?"

The Rotary platform is based upon human service. It doesn't consider a man a success unless he is of the fullest possible value to his fellowmen in helping them to greater happiness, no matter whether he is a money maker or not. "The Rotary club demands fair dealings, honest methods, and high standards in business," is the theme of the Rotary platform, and its clause. "He profits most who serves best," has been adopted as the latter part of the official slogan: "Service Above Self—He Profits Most Who Serves Best". This thought implanted in the life of one man spreads to others, and a small group possessing the thought of unselfish service soon creates the desire in other men to do likewise. Hence, the rapid spread of the Rotary idea.

However, these facts should be borne in mind, lest it be thought that Rotary is forcing itself upon the world: The growth of Rotary has been spontaneous. Never at any time, has the organization employed a paid organizer. On the other hand, extreme care has always been exercised in surveying cities and towns which apply for membership, to make sure that such communities are ready for a Rotary club and are of sufficient size to provide a membership of representative men and still have the membership restricted to one man from each distinctive business or profession, although, occasionally, one additional representative from the same firm is permitted. This plan of restricted membership insures the fullest possible representation of the community, while at the same time it is impossible for the membership to become large and unwieldy; united action is easier with a small group; the diversified representation provides an ideal forum for the discussion of local problems; no one line of business or profession can dominate the group and the smallness of the club permits of the enforcement of the attendance rule which requires that any member be automatically removed from the roster if he is absent four times in succession. This insistence upon regular attendance has given the Rotary club the record of having the largest average attendance of all organizations of business and professional men. In December, 1920, the average for all of the clubs of the United States and Canada was 77.40 per cent.

Rotary, it seems, is a "school for service," in which men of hundreds of cities, big and little gather once a week, in the middle of the day, have a good time, become well acquainted, open their minds and hearts to learn, and then seek to apply their lessons so thoroughly that the world everywhere is learning to look upon Rotarians as men who do things and do them willingly and unselfishly. By improving the individual member of the club, each man's business must be conducted on a higher plane; this means a finer influence upon all other men of the community engaged in the same line. Turning again to the individual, we find that he becomes a better man in his home life, while his attitude and activities in connection with his town, state and nation are ever keener and broader; that is, if he is a true Rotarian, and such, it is believed, all men connected with the organization are striving to be.

The word, therefore, welcomes Rotary. For sixteen years it has been doing its good work. It seeks not to do big public things of itself, except in emergency instances, but rather to train its members to be truly helpful every day and in every way.

A clean town may not cause undue comment, but a dirty one invariably comes in for a bunch of free advertising.

You come mighty close to getting something for nothing when you convert that back yard into a garden.

Some people object to a compliment. They want compliments instead.

THE TREND of LEGISLATION

BY GEO. W. STOUT
State Chamber of Commerce

Indianapolis, Ind. Feb. 16—With general appropriations ready for the executive approval and specific appropriations underway in the House, while taxation law modifications are well on the way to the Governor, and "Blue Sky" law amendments are advancing steadily without serious dissent in any quarter, it would appear that the Legislature of Indiana, seventy-second whirl, might reasonably discuss early adjournment. However it is not likely that gentlemen whose bills still are in the hopper, will easily agree to setting forward the quitting date.

Under proposed apportionment plans for the Legislature, Marion county, with five senators and a joint senator with Johnson county, would be more than ever a factor in legislation, figuring that her senatorial delegation acted as a unit. Taken with three senators hailing from Lake county, it may be said that reapportionment this year is more likely to bestow a potential senate "balance of power" on Lake and Marion counties than at any former time. With eight or nine votes grouped to act or to place themselves here and there, Marion and Lake might make a senate coalition felt from time to time, and perhaps jointly pull off some trades here and there.

As now working out, legislative reapportionment would give populous counties, those having larger cities, a senate strength of twenty-one. St. Joseph, Allen, Vigo, Vanderburg and Madison, however, would have joint senators with other smaller counties. So the twenty-one could not be classed as city senators. However, it might be possible for Marion, Lake, St. Joseph, Allen, Vigo, Vanderburg and Madison to work in conjunction more or less and present a formidable combination in the Senate. The tendency, in other words, has been to shift population to the cities of Indiana, and the result of this shift is the increase in legislative representation automatically bestowed upon the cities.

Of course it is a lot easier to talk of forming airtight combinations than it is to accomplish the stunt. The strengthening of the ranks of city senators, however, is worth nothing.

Twenty-one senators, under the proposed reapportionment, would come to the Legislature from the smaller or rural counties, formed into districts for joint election of senators. Eight senators would hail from territory which is a fifty-fifty combination of country and city, such counties as Wayne, Grant, Tippecanoe, Cass, Delaware, Knox and the like. All in all, the senate balance would be pretty well preserved as between the urban and rural interests.

The farmer members of this Legislature are probably better organized for effective co-operation and cohesive action than in any former session. They are numerically strong, and their representatives and senators are apparently well schooled and pretty definite in their purposes.

Unusual strength and ability also is shown by the business element in the assembly, and the farmers and business men are acting together for the general good on some of the vital measures of the year.

As illustrating the difficulties that sometimes arise when legislation is planned to "alleviate" this or that disorder in society, it is noted that the House has killed Hays' bill to adjust rentals and to limit the profit of the landlord who rents dwellings. It was shown that such legislation would tend to prevent the building of houses at a time when houses are needed. Then there is the bill to fix a nine-hour-day and a forty-eight hour week for women and girls in industry. Any number of wage-earning women and girls have objected to such legislation on the ground that it would mean their replacement by men who are not limited by law to any number of hours of labor either daily or weekly. Supporters of this legislation are puzzled.

There is a cessation of talk about the primary election law since the proposed conference announced some days ago failed to confer. The movement to amend the primary law so as to provide for the selection of national delegates by direct vote under the law is still being discussed, but it is not yet known how far it will get.

The state administration budget bill finds favor because it is based on sound business principles. As amended and advanced in the Senate it carries an executive clerkship with a $3,600 salary attached. Which has started talk as to the identity of the man who is likely to sit in on the new job. White the central board of control plan, discussed early in the session, seems to have been lost in the shuffle, there is a real call for the start is proposed on a budget plan, growing out of the purchasing commission's worth-while beginnings.

Tax levy bills, the state police measure, the state memorial proposition, the Reformatory removal bill, the Tax bill, the constitutional amendments, especially the one giving the Legislature power to create a new and modern taxing system, the anti-picketing bill, movie censorship, child welfare, "blue sky" law changes, reapportionment, removal of the School for the Blind, the state fair board law, road legislation amendments,—the list is somewhat imposing.

The vote in the senate by which the anti-picketing bill was passed indicated that even though some senators may have been a bit reluctant, there was an actual margin considerably larger than appeared in the voting. Advocates of the bill now confidently assert that they will be able to muster a house majority for it. The legislative atmosphere this year seems to be charged with a determination to enact measures along law and order lines, and the merging of all elements that passed the anti-picketing bill in the Senate is expected to prove strong in support of the State Police measure now pending.

Odd Fellows Have Little Trouble in Winning From Greenwood Legionnaires, 40 to 11

LOCALS IN SPLENDID FORM

Display Some of Best Team Work
Seen Here This Season—Should Win in Tournament

The highly touted Greenwood Legion team proved to be no match for the Odd Fellows basketball team and went down in defeat here last night by the score of 40 to 11, after the Odd Fellows took a lead early in the game, and at no time caused much concern over the victory.

The Greenwood team attempted to rough matters up right at the start of the game, but soon found that the Odd Fellows could return roughness, and things settled down, but the locals had a good working machine which couldn't be stopped and the baskets began to pile up.

The Odd Fellows displayed some of the best team work seen here and it seemed almost impossible for the visitors to break up the passing and floor work. The visitors were greatly off form in hitting the basket, and time and time again would miss what looked like easy chances to score.

In the first half the Odd Fellows piled up 22 points while the Legion team made 5. At the start of the final period of play the Legion team came back re-enforced with substitutes in an effort to check the Odd Fellows, and for a few minutes made things interesting.

Richardson, Alexander and Smith played best for Greenwood, while the Rushville crew seemed to work in perfect harmony at all times, making good short passes on floor work and were continually working the ball in their territory, where either Stoops, Martin or Titsworth were on hand to take a shot.

Keating played in his old position at floor guard last night, and made two baskets, one being in the last half from the center of the floor. Toward the end of the game he and Wells for Greenwood, mixed up, and Keating went out of the game, Henley taking his place.

Petry playing at back guard for the Odd Fellows held his man scoreless throughout the game, and was responsible for the score being kept down to a minimum.

If the Odd Fellows play at the tournament in Greensburg Friday and Saturday like they did last night it is no reason why they can't cop the district honors and represent Rushville at the state meet in Indianapolis.

In a preliminary contest last night the Rushville Shamrocks won out over the New Salem Independents 17 to 3. When the Rushville team played at New Salem recently they were shut out by the New Salem team 28 to 0 and the game last night was for revenge.

The score and summary:
Odd Fellows (40) Greenwood (11)
Stoops F Richardson
Titsworth F Wells
Martin C Alexander
Keating G Smith
Petry G McKee

Substitutions: Henley for Keating; Trisler for McKee and Adkins for Richardson.

Field goals, Stoops 8, Titsworth 3, Martin 5, Keating 2, Henley, Richardson 2, Alexander, Adkins, Foul Goals, Titsworth 2, Richardson 3.

Shows That 318 Girls in 47 Clubs
Canned a Total of 41,835 Quarts
of Fruit in The Year

A 14-YEAR-OLD GIRL WINS

(By United Press)

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 16.—During 1920, the 318 girls in 47 canning clubs organized throughout Indiana canned a total of 41,835 quarts of fruit and vegetables or an average of 135 quarts each according to the annual report of Miss Grace King of the Boys and Girls Club division at Purdue University.

Edith Miller, a 14-year-old girl, living at Mauckport, Harrison county, with 950 led the entire state in the number of quarts canned, but the championship went to Blanch Phillips, 19 of Frankfort whose production scored higher and whose record and story are better even though she only canned 566 quarts.

Some of the others with exceptional records were: Catherine Bronner, 16 of Rockport, 560 quarts; Laura McCutcheon, 17, Evansville 572 quarts; Adella Davis, 16, Lizton, 688 quarts; Leona Campbell, 15, Camden, 321 quarts. Eighteen girls in the club at Dale, Spencer county, averaged 211 quarts and eleven in the Mauckport club averaged 188 quarts. The ten girls in the Evansville club canned an average of 196 quarts, while six girls at Rossview averaged 142 quarts and six others at Columbus put up an average of 159.

Peters of Indianapolis; the Misses Fannie and Nellie Seerist of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Crist Heeb and two daughters of Norwood, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Cort Thomas and Mrs. Jasper Heizer of Connersville; and Ed Cassee, former merchant of Laurel, but now of Marion, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone received many beautiful and useful presents in memory of the occasion.

tary club but as individual Rotarians.

He cited several examples where he as district governor had been invited and urged to get the support of the eleventh district Rotary clubs. He referred to the recent effort of the Allied Relief Council and pointed out that Rotarians would be found identified with one or more of the seven different organizations behind the movement, so that there was no occasion for the Rotary clubs to enter into the campaign because Rotarians could work through the other organizations.

The Rotary club which does not take up these various movements, the speaker continued, prevents overlapping and duplication of effort but at the same time the club prepares its members for individual effort in everything which is for the best interests of the community.

In this connection, in covering briefly the work of the Rushville Rotary club, Mr. Allen emphasized that the local club had been placed in a peculiar position by the lack of any commercial organization in the city. He pointed out that the Rotary club had been called on to do many things which usually fall to the lot of a Chamber of Commerce, but that the club had made an effort to avoid violating the spirit in which Rotary exists and had attempted to get behind every worthwhile project in the city and county.

The district governor further emphasized the companionship which is created in the weekly meetings of Rotary clubs and how the feeling of fellowship grows and develops the individual, making him feel his responsibility and giving him the inspiration to live up to the standards which Rotarians set, one for another. How Rotary increases the acquaintance of its members and brings about intimate friendships through the rule of Rotary that every member shall be known by his first name or nickname, was pointed out by the district governor as one of the fine achievements of the organization.

MEMORIALS TO ANIMALS WHO DIED IN WORLD WAR

London. (By Mail)—The hundreds of dumb animals who made the supreme sacrifice in doing their bit for Britain are to have a National War Memorial. Few people realize how many classes of beasts and birds contributed their share towards the final victory. A list of animals that were of inestimable value to the Allies has now been published and comprises:

Horses, Dogs, Mules, Camels, Elephants, Oxen, Mice, Reindeer, Pigeons, Canaries, Cats, Goldfish. Hundreds of elephants lost their lives on the Eastern Front, where they acted as patient beasts of burden for the haulage of heavy guns. Reindeer were invaluable to the Russian campaign. No fewer than 120,013 camels were killed. The horses sacrificed their lives in thousands. On the Western Front alone 364,130 were killed.

Faithful dogs of all classes proved themselves wonderfully intelligent in fulfilling their duties of carrying messages, transporting field-telephone instruments, Red Cross and sentry duty. Gold-fish rendered valuable military service, too. They were placed in the water in which gas-helmets had been washed and absorbed in their bodies the chemical that had been employed by the Germans in the preparation of the gas, and from the knowledge thus gained chemists were able to counteract the effects of such gas.

The Secretary of the Royal Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals states that public subscriptions for a memorial are rolling in steadily.

SINN FEIN HOLD THEIR OWN COURTS

Court System Has Developed Until
It is a Real Institution With Real
Judges

OPPOSED BY BRITISH ARMY

System Opposed Largely on The
Ground That Land Agitation Retarded
the Republican Movement

By CHARLES M. McCANN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Dublin, Jan. (By Mail)—Despite the government's recent threat to "sweep the Sinn Fein courts" from the face of the earth, the courts, both civil and land, are carrying on daily—hunted from house to house and town to town, sometimes escaping daily by an apparent miracle and sometimes meeting boldly with military and auxiliaries passing the windows of the "courthouse", usually a private residence.

From local unauthorized Sinn Fein courts, amounting to six, the court system has developed until it is a real institution, with real judges appointed by Dail Eireann (Irish Parliament) and with the backing of the Irish Republican army in the event that litigants do not want to abide by a decision.

To one unversed in the landlord system, the seizure of untenanted or untitled lands is an apparently revolutionary idea. It is an idea, however, backed by British laws of thirty-odd years standing. The courts are appointed by the government, with authority if they deem it justified to award to farmer claimants sufficient land to maintain themselves, awarding an assessed value to the landholder if a compromise price cannot be reached. But the courts according to Sinn Fein, move over slowly. Consequently every year, there was land agitation, resulting in impoverished farmers breaking fences of big estates, driving off the owners' cattle and grazing their own on the land. Sinn Feiners in some badly congested areas instituted their own land courts. They held trials and enforced their decisions when necessary by the authority of the local branch of Sinn Fein. The system, however, was unauthorized by Dail Eireann and was opposed, largely on the ground that land agitation retarded the Republican movement.

The supporters of a national system of land courts directly under control of the Republican government eventually won. Judges were appointed under the Department of Agriculture and the first court met last May. It was a fair sample of a court case.

The solicitor for the landholder refused to plead. The parish priest stepped in, and presented the case for the landlord against the claims of several young farmers who wanted a parcel of land appraised and allotted to them at the assessed valuation. It developed the landholder leased the land under a provision that if the lands were parceled, his entire lease was forfeited. The claimants lost their case. The farmers, angered at the decision refused to accept the court's judgment. They broke down fences on the disputed land, drove off the holder's cattle and drove their own on. The court sent a notice to Dail Eireann, and an order was sent to the local company of the Irish Republican Army to protect the landlord. The seizers replied by taking their rifles to the land and sleeping on it at night, prepared for an attack. A pair of them were surprised and kidnapped by the Republicans. They were not harmed, but were told the land must be restored, the fences rebuilt and damages paid. Upon their release, they conferred with others and decided to comply. They did.

For a time last summer, Dail Eireann's courts, particularly the civil courts, met openly—or nearly openly. Now, the courts meet in isolated houses or barns, or in the heart of a city. A judge, just returned from a tour of sittings which included the martial law area was going to a town to hold court, but missed his train. When he arrived two hours late, he found the military in possession of the courthouse. They had raided it an hour before. The court was hastily summoned and their clients were notified and the pending cases were disposed of while soldiers and police patrolled the street in front of the substitute court house.

Again, he reached a town and reported to the local branch of Sinn Fein. He was told to take a motorcar and report at a rural rendezvous. He hired a car, not informing the strange driver of his identity and drove into the country. He met a patrol of volunteers. They sent him to a second rendezvous, where he met another patrol who directed him to a house on a side road several miles away. He reached his destination and found a guard of honor of fully equipped volunteers lined along the driveway, presenting arms in his honor.

What is

MOTHER'S FRIEND

Simply and tersely stated, MOTHER'S FRIEND is just exactly what the name implies—a friend and help to mothers.

It has been made and sold for more than half a century. If it did not possess the value claimed for it, MOTHER'S FRIEND could not possibly have remained on the market. For only that which is really worth while and beneficial can survive.

The mothers who appreciate MOTHER'S FRIEND the most, and who are loudest in their praise of it, are those who unfortunately did not use it with their first baby, and who, through its use with the second one, were able to fully realize the relief it gave them.

DIDN'T EVEN NEED THE DOCTOR

"Dear Sirs: I am willing and anxious to tell any mother about MOTHER'S FRIEND. It did me so much good that I wouldn't be without it if it cost $5.00 a bottle. With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I only had a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick and only sick about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Any mother can write me and I will only be too glad to give her advice. Yours truly,"

MRS. C. J. HARTMAN, 615 Palm St., Scranton, Pa.

SICK ONLY THREE HOURS. "MOTHER'S FRIEND" USED, COMPARED WITH FOUR DAYS SUFFERING WITHOUT IT

"Before using MOTHER'S FRIEND I suffered from Wednesday till Sunday. With my next child I used MOTHER'S FRIEND and was sick only about three hours."

OPPOSES FURTHER LOANS

Judiciary Committee is Against Loans Until Facts Are Known

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 16.—The senate judiciary committee unanimously has gone on record against payment of any further money to foreign countries even on commitment already made, until all facts concerning the loan are known to congress.

The committee action came on motion of Senator Reed of Missouri. Secretary Houston who was to have appeared before the committee today to give further information concerning loans and commitments said he would not appear until later.

The committee action was an effort to prevent Houston carrying out the policy which he told both the judiciary and foreign relations committee that he favored the payment of about $79,000,000 on commitments already made if the foreign governments ask for it.

L. A. Kidder and Assistant Remove Machine to Indianapolis and Will Investigate Farther

Rosa Maraufsky, the Chicago woman who was placed in jail in connection with the booze runners automobile abandoned here Friday night, was released from jail this morning when it was found that she could not be of any further assistance in the case.

L. A. Kidder in charge of the southern district of the state, working under the federal prohibition director, came here this morning with an assistant, and took the large car to Indianapolis, where the federal authorities will investigate the matter further.

The charge against Mrs. Maraufsky, being an accessory after the fact, was found to be worthless, because the principal parties to the charge were not arrested, and she was released from jail, but was still in Rushville today.

While she was busy with an attorney this morning preparing a suit against E. M. Jones, sheriff, a complaint in replevin to gain possession of her automobile, the federal officers came, and before she could file the suit the large touring car was half way back to Indianapolis, and she will be compelled to seek further for her machine.

The Ford touring car which is in Lewisville, that is supposed to have been used by the two men, who made their escape from here, was stated today to have been purchased by the men from Mullins and Taylor local agents. It is not known just what will be done with the machine.

Mrs. Maraufsky told the court officials that she paid $5,500 for the large touring car, but unfortunately her adopted son, Ben Maraufsky, had taken out the license plates in his name, and she will have a difficult time in proving her ownership to the machine.

The statute reads that the federal agents have a right to confiscate all whiskey as well as the automobile in which it is being transported, and

WOULD PREVENT A RAIL RATE INCREASE

State Public Service Commission Asks Injunction to Stop Boost in Interstate Rates

FEDERAL COMMISSION ORDER

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16.—The public service commission today asked the district federal court here for an injunction restraining the interstate commerce commission from enforcing its order of today directing the intrastate rates in Indiana be boosted to the level of interstate rates.

The suit filed by the state board also asked that the roads be enjoined from increasing passenger and freight rates which would become effective March 24.

In its suit for injunction the service commission charged that the order of the interstate commerce commission was unlawful. The suit says the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and other carriers on October 17, 1920, filed a petition with the service commission asking that the intrastate rates be put on a level with the interstate rates such as was ordered today by the interstate commerce commission, but that the utility body saw fit to deny the petition.

POLICE UNEARTH BODY OF A WOMAN

Mary H. Townsend, Talented Concert Pianist, Admits Burying Grandmother With Mother's Help

DIED NATURAL DEATH, CLAIM

(By United Press)

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 16.—The police today unearthed the body of Mrs. Nancy Chamberlain, 91, member of the Artist colony here. The body was found under the geranium plot at the back of the studio formerly occupied by the woman.

The body was buried there by her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Townsend, and her granddaughter, according to the confession made to the police by the latter, Mary H. Townsend, talented concert pianist.

"Grandmother died one day last June; the exact date I do not know," Miss Townsend stated. "Mother and I were both at the bedside when she breathed her last. Under the cover of midnight, we dug the grave. We carried out the remains and placed the body in the grave. To us she is not dead. She is just buried and she is happy. She died a natural death on her cot."

The daughter's confession came after the police had grilled the mother and daughter for three days.

PROTECTION FOR CROSSINGS DEAD

City Council Decides Not to Pass Ordinance Ordering Gates at Two C. I. & W. Crossings

PROTESTS AGAINST BELLS

Improvement of Streets by Spiking and Rolling Discussed—To Hear Paving Remonstrators

The city council which met last night in regular session practically killed an ordinance which was intended to be introduced compelling the C. I. & W. railroad to install crossing gates at Main and Perkins streets, and bell signals at other streets.

A small delegation of citizens residing along Fourth street appeared before the council, thinking that some action might be taken in the matter, and the councilmen were asked concerning each one's opinion in the matter, and it was generally understood that none was in favor of bells, or entering upon any change at the present time.

At a previous meeting of the council, it was agreed upon by railroad officials that they would put up crossing gates at Main and Perkins streets, and install signal bells at Morgan, Harrison and Arthur streets.

The council deferred action on the proposition and residents along Fourth street began their protest, especially those residing near Morgan and Harrison streets, stating that bells would prove an annoyance ringing in the night time and all during the day while trains were switching.

At the last meeting of the council the proposition was laid on the table, and last night another delegation arrived to enter protest against bells. H. C. Flint, living near Harrison and 4th lead the attack and for some streets, and would afford ample protection, he couldn't see why bells couldn't be placed at Main and Perkins street. R. P. Larkin, Ed Beer and Elmer Caldwell also spoke their views concerning any change that the councilmen might make, and the councilmen themselves were then asked to state openly what they believed, and the matter was quietly dropped, and things will remain with crossing watchmen, as at the present time.

The matter of the rough streets in Rushville was taken up, and a suggestion which was made earlier in the winter was again brought up, and spoken of very favorably. It is planned to have a steam engine equipped with spikes to tear up all the hard surfaced and rough streets and have them rolled down flat so that the bumps will be taken out.

The suggestion of oiling the streets again also was discussed and prices on oil will be asked for at a future meeting. Last year the prices were too high, and no oiling was done, but the prices are said to be back almost to normal now.

With the use of spikes on the rough streets, and oil applied and then rolled out with a heavy roller, the streets could be put in first class condition, in the opinion of the councilmen, and this plan will more than likely be followed out, and will be worked out more in detail at another meeting.

The paving plans for South Morgan and West Water streets were accepted by the councilmen last night, and March 2, was set aside as the time for receiving or hearing remonstrators against the two concrete streets. It has been understood that Lawrence and Ennis contractors for the Harrison street job, will be one of the bidders, so that the work can be done early this spring, if they are successful bidders.

CHARGED WITH ARSON

Muncie, Ind., Feb. 16.—Wallace E. Sipe, proprietor of a local meat market, was arrested here today on a charge of arson filed by Deputy State Fire Marshal Hoover. The affidavits were filed in Delaware circuit court charging Sipe as being responsible for the fire which destroyed his place of business on the night of February 8.

ANNIVERSARY OF ROTARY OBSERVED

Entertained by the Highland Lassies and a short program of after dinner speeches, wives and lady friends of Rushville Rotarians were guests Tuesday night when the sixteenth anniversary of the founding of the first Rotary club in Chicago was celebrated at the Social club by the local club.

Walter Pittsford of Indianapolis, governor of the eleventh Rotary district, which includes all of Indiana, made the principal address at the banquet. Judge Will M. Sparks presided and L. L. Allen briefly reviewed the work of the Rushville Rotary club since its organization a little more than a year ago.

The thought emphasized in both addresses was that the Rotary club was not achieving a reputation as a Rotary club but that its aim was to make "citizens," not residents of the community.

Last night's event was the second "Ladies Night" in the history of the Rushville Rotary club and it was immensely enjoyed by approximately forty local Rotarians and their wives or lady friends.

Valentine Day suggestions predominated in the special decorations. Streamers of white crepe paper adorned with red "hearts" formed a canopy in the dining room and flags with the Rotary emblem were used to advantage in the artistic arrangements of the room. The guests were seated at two long tables which were prettily arranged with clusters of carnations. Each guest wore a crepe paper hat of varied hues and each lady guest received a souvenir in the form of hand-painted card bearing a short paragraph appropriate to the occasion.

The Highland Lassie Entertainers, a company of musicians composed of advanced pupils from the Marion (Ind.) School of Music, were immensely popular. Their program during the banquet and afterwards consisted of classical and popular orchestral music, vocal and instrumental solos and pleasing typical Scotch Highland Fling danced by Miss Margaret Jardine. The orchestra also played several numbers for dancing, interspersed during their program.

The orchestral numbers, especially those of a classical nature, were given with excellent interpretation and the Scotch and popular music was played with a snap that made it particularly pleasing.

Miss Floy Huston, pianist and vocalist, was especially popular with her Scotch songs and in the solo numbers where she played her own accompaniment. The orchestra's descriptive numbers won much applause, especially one in which Miss Doris Smith used the drums and a great variety of traps effectively.

The six girls were dressed as Scotch girls and made a very pretty appearance. The company was formed at Marion in the spring of 1920 and played 103 engagements at chautauquas last summer. Their first excursion on the chautauqua platform resulted in them being engaged for the coming season.

Walter Pittsford was heartily received by the banqueters and briefly expounded the theory of Rotary as one which develops the individual so as to make him of greater service to his fellowman.

The district governor, by detailing his own experiences in Rotary since becoming a charter member of the Indianapolis Rotary club seven years ago, outlined the aims and ideals of Rotary. He attempted to correct the misconception that Rotary is for the purpose of taking charge of every drive for funds and every movement designed to improve a community. The Rotary club's place, he explained, is to get behind every good and worthy effort in the community and boost it through the efforts of the members, not collectively as a Rotary club, but individually.

DOLLAR DAY BRINGS LARGE CROWD TO CITY

Threatening Weather Fails to Keep Away Many People Who Are Tempted by Bargains

SOME MERCHANTS SELL OUT

Dollar Day this afternoon was pronounced a success by several merchants who were questioned regarding trade during the day. There was much evidence of increased business activity by the number of automobiles in the city and by the increased crowds on the streets. Many stores were busy all day waiting on customers.

The weather conditions proved good for the special bargain day although the skies were clouded and rain which threatened during the morning, fell in torrents for a few minutes this afternoon. It is not believed, however, that the weather prevented many people from visiting local stores to take advantage of the Dollar bargains, although the threatening skies may have kept some people away.

Many persons were heard to comment on the bargains which were offered by Rushville merchants. Some business men reported at noon that they had completely sold out on some of the articles they priced specially for today.

EXPLOSION OF DUST AND GAS KILLS FOUR

Bodies of Only Two of Quartet of Miners Who Entered Shaft Near Francisco, Ind., Found

OTHERS BLOWN TO PIECES

(By United Press)

Princeton, Ind., Feb. 16.—Four coal miners were killed in a dust and gas explosion, which wrecked the New Liberty mines near Francisco today.

Two badly mangled bodies and small bits of flesh and clothing found by the rescue party lead to the belief that the other two men had been blown to pieces. It was impossible to identify the bodies because of their mangled conditions.

All were day men and descended into the mine to keep the plant in good condition during the strike. The strike has been in progress for a month and it has been necessary to make daily trips to the foot of the mine to keep it in good condition. The rear of the mine is still burning. An explosion in the same mine occurred ten days ago but no one was killed. Dust and coal gas collected in the mine during its idleness.

SENATE PASSES TWO HOUSE BILLS

Sanctions Special Tax Levy of 2/5 Of a Cent For Maintenance of Purdue Station

MUST BE RETURNED TO HOUSE

Senate Also O. K.'s Pure Seed Bill Passed by House—Salary Increase Bill Survives

(By United Press)
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16.—A special state tax levy of 2/5 of a cent to provide funds for maintenance of the agriculture experiment station at Purdue University, provided for in a bill, was passed by the senate today.

Under the present valuations of approximately six billion dollars, the levy would raise $240,000 annually for the experiment station.

The measure will now be returned to the house of representatives for concurrence in senate amendments, the senate having boosted the levy from 3/8 cents to simplify the work in the office of the state auditor. The vote on the measure was 42 to 0. The senate also passed unanimously the "pure seed" bill which originated in the house of representatives. The measure provides that the seeds sold in Indiana must be labeled to show the percentage of germination and the percent of foreign seeds.

After a brief argument, the house passed the wage guarantee bill to second reading. The measure came out of the judiciary committee on a divided report, the majority report favoring passage and the minority report favoring indefinite postponement.

Senator Moorehead's bill providing that foreign born Americans shall attend night school until they learn to read and write was killed by the house which accepted the minority report of the committee on education recommending indefinite postponement.

Representative Ahlgren, chairman of the committee, speaking against the bill, declared: "The senate either does not give the bills they have before them serious consideration or they don't know the fundamental principals of government. This sort

BUSINESS TO BE EXTENDED

The Dill Foundry company, which recently took over the Dill foundry, that began operations here last September, has been incorporated for $20,000 and the transfer of real estate to the company was effected Tuesday. Incorporation papers have been filed with the secretary of state and copies are on file in the county recorder's office in the court house.

H. G. Francis is president of the new company, George Griesser is vice-president and Will Dill, secretary-treasurer. The plant was being operated in Mr. Dill's name until the incorporation. It is housed in a new building which was completed last summer and operations were begun the latter part of September. The plant is equipped to do all kinds of foundry work as well as machine and repair work. One of the purposes of the organization was to manufacture foundry supplies for the Chas. E. Francis Co. and thus keep in Rushville money which this concern has been spending elsewhere. The foundry, however, will do a general jobbing and production business and is now making plans to expand.

The company owns the east half of lot No. 12 of the McFarlan addition and all of lot No. 11 and officers of the company now have in mind a three-story brick building facing in Third street. The present plant is employing twelve men regularly.

WOULD ABOLISH HEAD OF COUNTY HIGHWAYS

Bill in Legislature Provides For Return to Old System of Caring For the Roads

TOO BIG FOR ONE, IS CLAIM

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 16.—The abolishment of the office of county highway superintendent would be effected by house bill No. 351, introduced by Murray S. Barker, of Boone county. The bill would turn back to the county highway supervision in the effect before the county superintendent law was enacted in 1915, according to Representative Barker.

"Before the 1915 law was enacted," said Representative Barker, "each of the three county commissioners had one-third of the county to look after. He appointed road men in his district and looked after the roads himself. Under the present plan the county commissioners appoint one man who is responsible for all highways in the county supervision. The result has not been satisfactory in Boone county, because the job is too big for one man. Boone county believes that county roads will receive more attention if each county commissioner looks after his one-third of the roads."

Indiana Farms Show Improved Conveniences in Report Gathered by Agricultural Statistician

205,124 FARMS IN STATE

Youths Drifting Back to Farm From Cities Will Find That Home-steads Have Changed

By GEORGE C. BRYANT
U. S. Gov. Agricultural Statistician (Written for United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 15.—Hoosier youth drifting back to the farm following his whirl at city life will find, in many instances, all the conveniences of the city awaiting him. Glancing through the official report for 1920 of the co-operative crop reporting service for Indiana, just completed, one finds that approximately one-eighth of the 205,124 farms in Indiana equipped with modern bath rooms and one sixth have modern heating devices, either hot air, steam or hot water.

About seventy-five percent of the farmers in this state have automobiles. In 3,185 farm homes there are electric hot plates. About fifty percent have gas engines or electric motors with which to pump water, do the washing, churn the butter and to perform various other tasks, which used to make farm life burdensome for the house wife.

Old Dobbin has been replaced in some degree by 14,643 tractors, 16,625 trucks and 13,061 trailers. There are 144,403 pleasure cars now in use by the Indiana farmers which have practically eliminated the family driving horse.

The three-legged milking stool and the old fashioned milk pail has given way to the new milking machine in 2,669 instances.

The report also shows that the farmers had to use 75.8 percent of the corn, oats and hay he raised in feeding livestock. The value of crops per acre during 1920 was $24.40 as compared with $35.75 during 1919.

Another interesting feature of the report is that it shows 11,071,241 laying hens were kept on Indiana farms during 1920 and that 452,136 sheep were sheared.

In studying the township assessors figures which are included in the report, we found there were 4,587 goats in Indiana last year; 655,329 horses, 94,196 mules, 2,516 jacks and jennets, 512,502 beef cattle, 759,138 dairy cattle, and 482,896 sheep and 2,515,013 swine.

We found that the pure bred livestock industry is one of the leading industries on the farm and that it is growing continually.

Mary Miles Minter Tonight

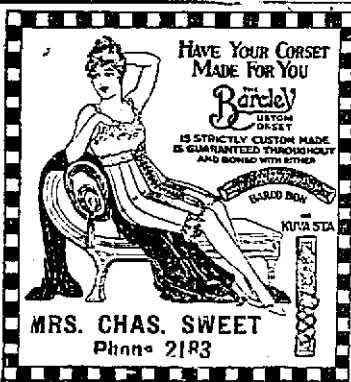

"All dressed up and no place to go."
That's the way Mary Miles Minter says she felt when she made the statue scenes in "All Souls' Eve", a recently completed Realart release which will be shown today at the Princess theatre.

In this picture Miss Minter not only carries two very distinct and difference roles, but also appears as a ghost, and as the aforementioned statue. Now it is all very easy for an actress to serve as an artist's model, for slight movement is quite permissible in a living model. But it is something vastly more difficult to serve as the completed marble statue. Of course we have all seen the "Statue Groups" in the circus whitewashed ladies standing triumphantly with their feet on the necks of recumbent, whitewashed horses, etc. But distance eludes enchantment to such groups, and hides the slight movements which the "statues" may make. Not so in the case of a living statue posing before the all-seeing eye of the camera. It is a real endurance test, says Miss Minter, who, with all her screen experience, found this statue business one of the most exacting tasks which has confronted her in a long time.

Ever at that however, she says she didn't mind the standing motionless nearly so much as the white chalk make-up, which plastered her completely, to give the semblance to marble, for the chalk kept getting into her eyes.

"The Marriage Pit". Mystic

speculation in gold on the New York Stock Exchange plunged the entire nation into a sudden and terrible period of financial panic and ruin. Four years later, a similar panic launched itself on a Friday in the same month.

So when the unscrupulous stock gamblers who are Frank Mayo's enemies threaten that "Black Friday" will be repeated for him in "The Marriage Pit", now at the Mystic Theatre their threat has dire import.

Their raid on Mayo, a live young financial power who "made" himself takes the form of "bearing" or depressing prices, on a stock in which he is heavily invested. Aware of this, Mayo calls the bluff by purchasing every share of stock they put on the market and turns the raid on his personal fortune to a complete cleanup of thousands of dollars.

While the Wall Street scenes in "The Marriage Pit", are accurate and interesting, they are purely incidental to Frederick Isham's story, the romance of a business man—a theme seldom treated in motion pictures. Lillian Tucker is the girl, Frank Mayo marries in this picture, and Dagmar Godowsky is a musical comedy star. Ray Ripley as a shiftless waster and dabbler in stocks, Hal Wilson a the star's faithful secretary, and Frederick Vroom, Boyd Irwin, and Robert Dunbar, have good parts. Belle Stoddard Johnstone, Frank Mayo's aunt, is the mother of his sweetheart in "The Marriage Pit".

They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from sore throat, bronchitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest. Always dependable.

1920 CANNING CLUB REPORT COMPETED

Shows That 318 Girls in 47 Clubs
Canned a Total of 41,835 Quarts
of Fruit in The Year.

A 14-YEAR-OLD GIRL WINS

(By United Press)

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 16.—During 1920, the 318 girls in 47 canning clubs organized throughout Indiana canned a total of 41,835 quarts of fruit and vegetables or an average of 135 quarts each according to the annual report of Miss Grace King of the Boys and Girls Club division at Purdue University.

Edith Miller, a 14-year-old girl, living at Mauckport, Harrison county, with 950 led the entire state in the number of quarts canned, but the championship went to Blanch Phillips, 19 of Frankfort whose product scored higher and whose record and story are better even though she only canned 546 quarts.

Some of the others with exceptional records were: Catherine Bronner, 16 of Rockport, 560 quarts; Laura McCutcheon, 17, Evansville, 572 quarts; Adella Davis, 16, Lizton, 688 quarts; Leona Campbell, 15, Camden, 321 quarts. Eighteen girls in the club at Dale, Spencer county, averaged 211 quarts and eleven in the Mauckport club averaged 188 quarts. The ten girls in the Evansville club canned an average of 196 quarts, while six girls at Rossville averaged 142 quarts and six others at Columbus put up an average of 159.

Peters of Indianapolis; the Misses Fannie and Nellie Seerist of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. Crist Heeb and two daughters of Norwood, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Cort Thomas and Mrs. Jasper Heizer of Connersville; and Ed Cassee, former merchant of Laurel, but now of Marion, Ind.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone received many beautiful and useful presents in memory of the occasion.

tary club but as individual Rotarians.

He cited several examples where he as district governor had been invited and urged to get the support of the eleventh district Rotary clubs. He referred to the recent effort of the Allied Relief Council and pointed out that Rotarians would be found identified with one or more of the seven different organizations behind the movement, so that there was no occasion for the Rotary clubs to enter into the campaign because Rotarians could work through the other organizations.

The Rotary club which does not take up these various movements, the speaker continued, prevents overlapping and duplication of effort but at the same time the club prepares its members for individual effort in everything which is for the best interests of the community.

In this connection, in covering briefly the work of the Rushville Rotary club, Mr. Allen emphasized that the local club had been placed in a peculiar position by the lack of any commercial organization in the city. He pointed out that the Rotary club had been called on to do many things which usually fall to the lot of a Chamber of Commerce, but that the club had made an effort to avoid violating the spirit in which Rotary exists and had attempted to get behind every worthwhile project in the city and county.

The district governor further emphasized the companionship which is created in the weekly meetings of Rotary clubs and how the feeling of fellowship grows and develops the individual, making him feel his responsibility and giving him the inspiration to live up to the standards which Rotarians set, one for another. How Rotary increases the acquaintance of its members and brings about intimate friendships through the rule of Rotary that every member shall be known by his first name or nickname, was pointed out by the district governor as one of the fine achievements of the organization.

MEMORIALS TO ANIMALS WHO DIED IN WORLD WAR

London, (By Mail)—The hundreds of dumb animals who made the supreme sacrifice in doing their bit for Britain are to have a National War Memorial. Few people realize how many classes of beasts and birds contributed their share towards the final victory. A list of animals that were of inestimable value to the Allies has now been published and comprises:

Horses, Dogs, Mules, Camels, Elephants, Oxen, Mice, Reindeer, Pigeons, Canaries, Cats, Goldfish. Hundreds of elephants lost their lives on the Eastern Front, where they acted as patient beasts of burden for the haulage of heavy guns. Reindeer were invaluable to the Russian campaign. No fewer than 120,013 camels were killed. The horses sacrificed their lives in thousands. On the Western Front alone 364,130 were killed.

Faithful dogs of all classes proved themselves wonderfully intelligent in fulfilling their duties of carrying messages, transporting field-telephone instruments, Red Cross and sentry duty. Goldfish rendered valuable military service, too. They were placed in the water in which gas-helmets had been washed and absorbed in their bodies the chemical that had been employed by the Germans in the preparation of the gas, and from the knowledge thus gained chemists were able to counteract the effects of such gas.

The Secretary of the Royal Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals states that public subscriptions for a memorial are rolling in steadily.

SINN FEIN HOLD THEIR OWN COURTS

Court System Has Developed Until
It is a Real Institution With Real
Judges

OPPOSED BY BRITISH ARMY

System Opposed Largely on The
Ground That Land Agitation Retarded
the Republican Movement

By CHARLES M. McCANN
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

Dublin, Jan. (By Mail)—Despite the government's recent threat to "sweep the Sinn Fein courts from the face of the earth," the courts, both civil and land, are carrying on daily—hunted from house to house and town to town, sometimes escaping daily by an apparent miracle and sometimes meeting boldly with military and auxiliaries passing the windows of the "courthouse", usually a private residence.

From local unauthorized Sinn Fein courts, amounting to six, the court system has developed until it is a real institution, with real judges appointed by Dail Eireann (Irish Parliament) and with the backing of the Irish Republican army in the event that litigants do not want to abide by a decision.

To one unversed in the landlord system, the seizure of untenanted or untitled lands is an apparently revolutionary idea. It is an idea, however, backed by British laws of thirty-odd years standing. The courts are appointed by the government, with authority if they deem it justified to award to farmer claimants sufficient land to maintain themselves, awarding an assessed value to the landholder if a compromise price cannot be reached. But the courts according to Sinn Fein, move over slowly. Consequently every year, there was land agitation, resulting in impoverished farmers breaking fences of big estates, driving off the owners' cattle and grazing their own on the land. Sinn Feiners in some badly congested areas instituted their own land courts. They held trials and enforced their decisions when necessary by the authority of the local branch of Sinn Fein. The system, however, was unauthorized by Dail Eireann and was opposed, largely on the ground that land agitation retarded the Republican movement.

The supporters of a national system of land courts directly under control of the Republican government eventually won. Judges were appointed under the Department of Agriculture and the first court met last May. It was a fair sample of a court case.

The solicitor for the landholder refused to plead. The parish priest stepped in, and presented the case for the landlord against the claims of several young farmers who wanted a parcel of land appraised and allotted to them at the assessed valuation. It developed the landholder leased the land under a provision that if the lands were parceled, his entire lease was forfeited. The claimants lost their case. The farmers, angered at the decision refused to accept the court's judgment. They broke down fences on the disputed land, drove off the holder's cattle and drove their own on. The court sent a notice to Dail Eireann, and an order was sent to the local company of the Irish Republican Army to protect the landlord. The seizers replied by taking their rifles to the land and sleeping on it at night, prepared for an attack. A pair of them were surprised and kidnapped by the Republicans. They were not harmed, but were told the land must be restored, the fences rebuilt and damages paid. Upon their release, they conferred with others and decided to comply. They did.

For a time last summer, Dail Eireann's courts, particularly the civil courts, met openly—or nearly openly. Now, the courts meet in isolated houses or barns, or in the heart of a city. A judge, just returned from a tour of sittings, which included the martial law area was going to a town to hold court, but missed his train. When he arrived two hours late, he found the military in possession of the courthouse. They had raided it an hour before. The court was hastily summoned and their clients were notified and the pending cases were disposed of while soldiers and police patrolled the street in front of the substitute court house.

Again, he reached a town and reported to the local branch of Sinn Fein. He was told to take a motorcar and report at a rural rendezvous. He hired a car, not informing the strange driver of his identity and drove into the country. He met a patrol of volunteers. They sent him to a second rendezvous, where he met another patrol who directed him to a house on a side road several miles away. He reached his destination and found a guard of honor of fully equipped volunteers lined along the driveway, presenting arms in his honor.

Users are proud of their De Laval

THERE are more than 2,500,000 users of De Laval Cream Separators, and practically all display the sign of separator satisfaction. These little signs reading "We use the De Laval Cream Separator" are nailed on fences and barns and other prominent places all over the world.

Each sign is a personal recommendation of the owner. Each sign indicates the pride with which the owner regards his De Laval.

The most progressive and most prosperous farmers in nearly every dairying section own De Laval. They know the De Laval skims closer, runs easier and lasts longer than any other separator; and that it may be depended upon to put more money in the bank.

The De Laval is particularly well liked by women. It turns easier than other separators; is more easily cleaned, and does its work in less time.

Come in and let us demonstrate the superiority of the De Laval.

"COMPLETELY DISCOURAGED"

Is the feeling and plaint of women who are "run-down" so low that work drags, head aches, back aches, dragging down feelings, dizzy, pale, weak, "everything goes wrong." See what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for more than a million women in the last fifty years. What it has done for others it can do for you. Gary, Ind.—A couple of years ago I began suffering with women's weakness. I had severe backaches, became very weak and nervous, could not eat or sleep well. I doctored but did not get better under the treatment. At last I began taking the "Favorite Prescription" and it made a well woman of me and in less than six months I was stronger than I ever have been.—MRS. SADIE WEIKEL, 837 Penn St. Send 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial package.

(By United Press)
Petersburg, Ill., Feb. 16.—Work is being rushed here on the reconstruction of the deserted town of Old Salem, where Abraham Lincoln spent most of his early life. Five of the original buildings of the town have been copied and are complete and the work is progressing on the remaining 25 buildings. Judge G. E. Nelson, president of the Old Salem Lincoln League is directing the work of laborers furnished by the state. The state legislature recently appropriated $50,000 for the reconstruction of the town. It was at Old Salem that Lincoln studied law. Ann Rutledge, the sweetheart whose death is said to have tinged Lincoln's whole life with sorrow, lived and died at Old Salem.

Judiciary Committee is Against Loans Until Facts Are Known

(By United Press)

Washington, Feb. 16.—The senate judiciary committee unanimously has gone on record against payment of any further money to foreign countries even on commitment already made, until all facts concerning the loan are known to congress.

The committee action came on motion of Senator Reed of Missouri. Secretary Houston who was to have appeared before the committee today to give further information concerning loans and commitments said he would not appear until later.

The committee action was an effort to prevent Houston carrying out the policy which he told both the judiciary and foreign relations committee that he favored the payment of about $79,000,000 on commitments already made if the foreign governments ask for it.

What is

MOTHER'S FRIEND

Simply and tersely stated, MOTHER'S FRIEND is just exactly what the name implies—a friend and help to mothers.

It has been made and sold for more than half a century. If it did not possess the value claimed for it, MOTHER'S FRIEND could not possibly have remained on the market. For only that which is really worth while and beneficial can survive.

The mothers who appreciate MOTHER'S FRIEND the most, and who are loudest in their praise of it, are those who unfortunately did not use it with their first baby, and who, through its use with the second one, were able to fully realize the relief it gave them.

DIDN'T EVEN NEED THE DOCTOR

"Dear Sirs: I am willing and anxious to tell any mother about MOTHER'S FRIEND. It did me so much good that I wouldn't be without it if it cost $3.00 a bottle. With my first two children I had a doctor and a nurse and then they had to use instruments, but with my last two children I only had a nurse; we had no time to get a doctor because I wasn't very sick and only sick about ten or fifteen minutes."

"Any mother can write me and I will only be too glad to give her advice. Yours truly,"

MRS. C. J. HARTMAN,
615 Palm St., Scranton, Pa.

SICK ONLY THREE HOURS. "MOTHER'S FRIEND" USED, COMPARED WITH FOUR DAYS SUFFERING WITHOUT IT

"Before using MOTHER'S FRIEND I suffered from Wednesday till Sunday. With my next child I used MOTHER'S FRIEND and was sick only about three hours."
